"Loud these Saxon Gleemen
Sang to slaves the songs of Freemen."

Oh thus it has been writ in days of yore of the wandering minstrel—the Gleeman—whose songs of crude, rugged beauty still tremble in the air and in the hearts of people e'en to-day

And there was one—one who stood out beyond all others—the Gleeman, Widsith, whose beauty of song and power of weaving words made him beloved of all, both rich and poor, both high and lowly. By the winter fire or beneath the summer trees, flushed brows grew a darker red, or the wild Saxon war-shout faded into gentler tones as love or war varied the theme of mighty Widsith's melody. Then, as you read this story of his life we hope the beauty of his glorious music shall hover long upon your hearts.

Professor S. L. Wilson

. . . eight years ago Mr. Wilson entered Bloomsburg to become head of the English department. . . . At that time the college was known as the Bloomsburg State Normal School and offered two-year courses in elementary education. In 1927 the now famous Edmond's Act went into effect and the four-year course in secondary education was added. This necessitated a wider range of subject matter and a more advanced type of instruction. Mr. Wilson has met the changing demands of education with little difficulty and his methods of instruction have been emulated successfully by countless graduates of this institution. Keeping abreast of the many rapid changes in educational technique, Professor Wilson is respected by all who know him as one of the most successful instructors in this region.

A native of Philipsburg, Penna., Mr. Wilson has had a wide and varied experience in the field of education. The schools that have contributed to his education are Bucknell University, Bachelor of Arts; Columbia University, Master of Arts, and Harvard University, graduate work. Prior to entering Bloomsburg in 1923 Mr. Wilson taught for several years in the former Harrisburg Technical High School. Mr. Wilson has also given courses in English during summer sessions at Penn State.

As faculty adviser of publications Mr. Wilson has aided in the publication of a successful college paper. This year he was appointed chairman of a faculty committee on publications and his services have been an invaluable aid to the Maroon and Gold and to the Obiter Staff.

Mr. Wilson is giving his best efforts to Bloomsburg. He is striving for a better school spirit and higher and more efficient academic attainment. It is our duty to carry with us this conception of education.

As we have dedicated our lives to the training of youth we must set higher standards as our goal. And the result will be equal to the effort which we expend in this direction.

As the Gleeman's song carried the thread of learning through the long-forgotten ages of the past, may this, our theme, characterize the work of Professor S. L. Wilson. . . . To one who has so faithfully proved himself a worthy counselor and friend we offer this volume as a tribute of our deep appreciation.

The God of Wisdom Speaks

Oh woe, the Gleeman's song no longer fills the air for conquests and wars were then begun. The Gleeman died in battle, with the rest, singing His song of glory till the end. . . . Then lo! on high the God of Wisdom came and there was calm upon the warring land. . . . "For death has wrapped these minstrels in her veil," spake he, "their wild melodic hearts have found sweet peace."

Throughout all ages, man lives but a day—a day soon spent, soon lost on songs of time and tuneless melodies of change. . . . Some live till dawn and go in blaze of glory. Some just die at any hour, leaving little light. . . . Weep not for men of Widsith's retinue, now gone. Weep not, their song shall never fade. The God of Wisdom, speaking, tells you this, "Their wild melodic hearts have found sweet peace."

ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Francis B. Haas

DR. HAAS entered Bloomsburg in the summer of 1927 to become President of this institution. The intervening years have been busy ones for the new President and the result of his effort is reflected in the many improvements on the campus and in the academic work. A general program of expansion has been under way and scholarship standards have been raised to a high point. Those of our class who entered in 1927 will always regard Dr. Haas as an ex-officio member of the class of 1931.

All of us, as we go out into the world, will look to him for guidance and his inspiration will lead us to exert our best efforts.

Bachelor of Arts, Temple University, 1913.

Master of Arts, University of Pennsylvania, 1922.

Doctor of Pedagogy, Temple University, 1927.

State Superintendent, 1925.

President of State Teachers College at Bloomsburg, 1927-

Sketched by Miss Catherine Hayes, Class of 1931

Your many Bloomsburg friends wish you success as you go forth on the "Great Adventure".

Sincerely yours,
Francis B Haas.

Introspection

In 1927, four brief years ago, Dr. Francis B. Haas was appointed President of the state teachers college at Bloomsburg, Pa. . . . In this short period of time we have witnessed many changes and improvements in this institution. We have witnessed a broadening influence which is moving us slowly but surely toward perfection. . . . Change is visible on every hand. New buildings have been added, the campus has been beautified and a large tract of land has been purchased for the expansion that will necessarily follow this more-inclusive point of view. The old buildings are being renovated, the dormitories have been modernized, the auditorium remodeled and the classrooms repaired and filled with new and substantial furniture.

This year a department of commerce was added to the curriculum and more room was made available to the college by the completion of the Benjamin Franklin Training School and removal of the old training school unit to the new building. . . . Most praiseworthy of all is the noticeable improvement in scholarship. Academic standards have been established and inducements are offered to the student body for improvement in their class work. Added emphasis was given this year with the installation of a national honorary educational fraternity. . . .

Turning our thoughts to the future we note with pride the many proposed additions in the College building program. . . . These plans embody a new gymnasium, a new auditorium and a new Junior High school to be built on the present campus. . . . Change is necessarily slow, but it is steadily making way, and growth is evident.

Community Government Association

OFFICERS

Thomas L. Henry	President
Henry Warman	Vice President
Frances Evans	Secretary
Nicholas Jaffin	Treasurer

The Community Government Association of our college organized during the second semester of 1927. The membership of this organization is composed of all members of the faculty and registered students. The Association has for its object co-operation, with the responsible authorities in promoting personal and group responsibilities in guiding and regulating the affairs of all students under the jurisdiction of the college.

When the Constitution was drafted the members of the committee realized the necessity of close co-operation for the successful functioning of this body so they provided that a meeting of the Association be held at least once a month plus any other meetings called by the president upon petition of twenty members. They aimed to give equal and just representation to both men and women of all the classes.

In order to carry on the work of the Association four officers of good scholarship, citizenship, and conduct are elected by the members of the Association for a term of one year. The President must be a senior in the four-year course. All other officers may be members of either of the remaining classes except the Freshman Class.

Top Row, Left to Right—E. N. Rhodes, Director of Training School; Rachel Turner, Assistant Dean of Women; John C. Koch, Dean of Men; Dr. Marguerite Kehr, Dean of Women; W. B. Sutliff, Dean of Instruction.
Third Row—Raymond Williard, William Weaver, Wilbur Hibbard, William Thompson, Ezra Harris, Ivor Robbins.
Second Row—Woodrow Hummel, Emily Parks, Henry Warman, Tom. L. Henry, Frances Evans, Nicholas Jaffin, Helen Gibbons.
First Row—Laura Kelly, Dorothy Kisner, Sarah Lentz, Dorothy K. Jones, Grace Callender.

Student Council

THE Student Council which is the executive, legislative, and judicial agent of the Association is elected on the first Tuesday in May by the various classes. Representation in the Council is based on classes. Each class elects two representatives, a man and a woman. The commuting students also elect two representatives, one of each sex.

The Council meets once every two weeks on a day agreed upon by this body. Matters of minor importance are taken up in Council and the work is disposed of in that way while the matters of major importance and consideration are referred to a committee, the chairman of which must be a member of the Council appointed by the President. After an investigation, the matter is presented to the Council by the Chairman at the next meeting and acted upon by the Council. All recommendations must be approved by the President of the College.

Besides the student representatives, the President of the College, the Dean of Women, the Dean of Men, the Director of Teacher Training, are members of the Association, the Student Council, and all Committees.

Standing—Alys Henry, Elizabeth Hubler, Iva Jenkins, Louise Bombe, Ann Williams.

The Governing Board

OFFICERS

Dorothy Kisner	President
Elizabeth VanBuskirk	Vice President
Iva Jenkins	Secretary
Louise Bombe	Assistant Secretary
Helen Maynard	Treasurer

The Governing Board of the Women's Student Government Association is one of the most active organizations of the college. Its membership consists of representatives from each of the various classes. The representatives are nominated and elected by the students of Waller Hall at a stated time and hold their office for one year.

The Governing Board makes and enforces regulations pertaining to all conditions in the dormitory. In addition to its executive and judicial work the Governing Board functions through these committees:

1. Finance Committee which collects and disburses the funds, and makes out and keeps the budget in a healthy financial condition.

2. Fire Drill Committee which regulates and supervises fire drills in Waller Hall.

3. House Committee which reports on conditions of the halls, press-rooms, and lavatories and recommends repairs and improvements.

4. Social Committee which plans for dormitory parties and for suitable observance of holiday seasons in the dormitory.

Standing—David Baker, Alex Shepela, Gordon Wambaugh, Clarence Wolever, Martin Sekulski, Thomas Kirker.
Seated—J. C. Koch, Dean of Men; Keith Witheridge, Robert Brown, Wilbur Hibbard, Theodore Morrissey.

North Hall Executive Council

OFFICERS

Wilbur Hibbard	President
Thomas Coursen	Vice President
Frank Perch	Secretary
Nicholas Jaffin	Treasurer

THE members of this organization are elected by popular vote; one from each of the classes and one from each floor of the dormitory.

The duties of the council are to formulate rules regulating Freshman customs; to act as a judicial body; to try all violations of rules; and to administer all the affairs of the Association; to make suggestions and formulate policies for the Association.

The council has had occasion to exercise its power on a few discipline cases during the current year. The manner in which the council dispensed of these few cases was sufficient to practically eliminate the necessity for further action; and has served in no mean manner to raise the ideals and standards of the institution.

In Saxon halls, the Gleeman's song
Built altars high . . .
Altars made of melody that whispered tunes
Unto the sky . . .

SENIORS

Harriet Morton Moore

MISS MOORE is a native of Missouri. After graduating from the high school at Festus, Mo., Miss Moore attended the State Teachers College at Kirksville, Mo., and graduated from the 4-year Music Supervisors' course. In the fall of 1920 she entered the collegiate course at Bush Conservatory, Chicago, and received the degree of Bachelor of Music from that institution in 1921.

During a recent leave of absence from her present position, Miss Moore attended the New York University School of Education and was awarded the degrees of Bachelor of Science in Music Education and Master of Arts in Teachers College and Normal School Education.

Prior to entering Bloomsburg, Miss Moore taught in the elementary grades in the public schols of Webster Groves, Mo., and supervised music in the public schools of Winnetka, Ill., and of University City, Mo.

In 1921 Miss Moore entered Bloomsburg as instructor in Public School Music and with the completion of the Benjamin Franklin Training School she was appointed supervisor of music. In addition to the regular class work Miss Moore has assumed the responsibility of leading the College Chorus, and has given her time and effort to the formation of one of the most splendid organizations on the campus—the Men's Glee Club.

Miss Moore has given her tireless energy to the Senior Class and helped to shape and formulate the policies of our graduating class. The Class of 1931 wishes to express its sincere appreciation to Miss Harriet M. Moore for her wise counsel and faithful guidance.

Class Officers

James B. Davis, of Bloomsburg, was elected president of the Senior Class early in the fall term. He has an admirable record in school activities and was well fitted to carry out the responsibility with which he was entrusted. The Senior budget was reduced noticeably and the duties of administration were carried on by a group of capable committees. Elizabeth Bowman, also of Bloomsburg, was elected vice president and co-operated with the other class officers in shaping the destinies of the graduating class. Helen Maynard, of Chinchilla, was awarded the office of secretary and performed her duties efficiently, while Thomas Kirker, of Columbia, handled the accounts of the class and largely through his efforts reduced the class assessments to a minimum.

Fact and Fancy guard the shrine.

JUNIORS

Junior Class History

LOOKING back we can readily see that this has been the most successful year for the class since its entry in 1928. The class has advanced from the frosh stage and its adherent state of nonentity to the leading group in all affairs on the campus.

As Frosh we spent all our time absorbing the atmosphere, customs, scholarship and inheritance left by the generations of graduates and underclassmen. We learned that college as depicted in the movies is utterly false, and the life described by boasting alumni is likewise greatly exaggerated.

Our second year we spent improving upon the mistakes we had made as freshmen. Friends we had made became pals; we acquired a sense of worldliness by lording it over the new students; and then the bright spot of the year, the never-to-be-forgotten Sophomore Cotillion. While it is true that the meek may inherit the earth, we have not waited for such Utopian prospect; whatever it was that was desired, we worked for and accomplished.

In athletics, the captains of Football, Track, and Basketball (both Varsity and Junior-Varsity) are all members of the Junior Class.

In dramatics the class proved its ability by the excellent way in which it produced "Skidding," being handled exclusively by the class as a dramatic project.

As a fitting close to a perfect year the Junior Prom stands out in the memory of all who attended it, whether a member of the class or not. Such events as these and others too numerous to mention make us wonder whether things are as bad as they may seem at times, and we wonder whether the time may not soon be at hand when we also shall join that large group of proud and boasting alumni.

Sophomore Class History

We, the class of 1933, have given ample proof of our ability to shoulder the responsibility which is falling upon us as we advance in our college career. Last year as freshmen, we received our introduction to college life, and such things as freshmen customs proved to be a very interesting sidelight. Under a capable group of officers, with Miss Patterson as class advisor, we succeeded in making a success of all our social events. Now that we have passed on to a higher degree of learning, we understand just why we had to do the things that we did in our Freshmen year.

We began our Sophomore year by bidding farewell to two-thirds of our members who are now members of the Senior class. We shall remember them in connection with our freshmen days.

This year we organized, and Dr. North was chosen as our class advisor. Everything went well, in spite of the many obstacles that confronted us. Overcoming all these, we reached the climax of our school year—The Cotillion. It was our one and only social event, and another milestone passed in our college life.

Everywhere in our school the Sophomores take an active part. On the football field, on the baseball diamond, and on the basketball floor, and on the track, Sophomores may be found, working hard, and in some cases starring for the team. Those with other talents have flocked to the other activities of the school. Some are in musical organizations, and others have turned to literary work.

Let us not overlook the fact that the Sophomores, in spite of their activities in other lines, have maintained a high scholastic rating, and all other activities should be extra, and only participated in by those who are sure of their studies.

We are proud that we have successfully completed our Sophomore year, and we look forward with confidence to the pleasure and responsibilities that will be ours in the remaining years of our college life.

FRESHMEN

Freshman Class

OFFICERS

Aldwin Jones	President
Grace E. Foot	Vice President
Harriet E. Sutliff	Secretary
John Partridge	Treasurer

Our Freshman Class landed in Bloomsburg on September 2, 1930. Many of us had long faces and felt as though we wanted to leave for home the day we arrived. This idea did not last long when the activities of the school went into full swing, for we were kept busy remembering what color ribbon to tie on our umbrellas and how long we were to continue wearing our white stockings and name cards. There was no need to remind the men of their dinks, black ties, and black socks, for their customs continued until Christmas.

The biggest feature of the first few months of school was the "Kid Party." Only the freshmen can realize what fun was experienced at this party. Of course, our "Freshman Hop" was a wonderful success and was quite a bit more sophisticated than the "Kid Party."

For the first time in the history of the school the underclass football aggregation covered themselves with glory by defeating a strong upperclass team on Mount Olympus. This feat was phenomenal, but the class of 1931 will see that this victory is not emulated by future freshman teams.

We wish to extend our thanks to the upperclassmen for the welcome they have given us. And we acknowledge our debt to our instructors who have given us much encouragement and help through our first year. We are certain that we have proved ourselves worthy of the title—Upperclassmen.

Drama and Music

Minstrelsy

Resumé

With our broadened outlook has come a slow but persistent development in Drama and Music. . . . In Drama interest has run high . . . play tournaments have been sponsored . . . the Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatic fraternity, has fostered the publication of a monthly paper for the benefit of alumni interested in dramatic work . . . several successful plays including the "Copperhead" have been produced this year . . . the Bloomsburg Players have achieved fame. Music has gained impetus . . . the Men's Glee Club displayed unusual talent in its annual Concert and performed one of the season's hits in a black-faced minstrel show. . . . The Women's Glee Club successfully staged the cantata "Pan" before an appreciative audience. . . . The Maroon and Gold Orchestra has risen to unprecedented heights of melody and has been made a permanent organization. . . . The Maroon and Gold Band, formed during the second semester, gave excellent service at social functions and at the basketball contests and faces a promising future. . . . The College Orchestra this year played for the commencement exercises and fitted in well with the plays and performances held during the College year. . . . The process of development is under way. With expansion and the consequent growth of school spirit Drama and Music will fill an ever increasing part in our school activities.

THE Bloomsburg Players are now in the seventh year of their organization, and aside from their own club work they have staged several public productions, giving one long play each year as well as many one-acts. Last year the long play was "The New Lady Bantock," by Jerome K. Jerome.

In nineteen-twenty-seven the club established the custom of producing for the public a play tournament composed of three one-act plays that had been previously staged before the club. The three plays chosen last year were "The Valiant," by Halworthy Hall; "Mrs. Pat in the Law," by Mary Aldis; and "The Romancers," by Edmund Rostrand. "The Valiant" won first place in the tournament.

The great work of the club, however, lies not in the public productions but in the one-act plays produced at each weekly meeting before the members. The plays given in this way are criticized and discussions of acting, stage set, etc., are participated in by the club members. Each play has a student director, supervised by the club director. Through these plays the members acquire training in acting, directing, and producing. Our aim is not to produce stars but to receive training so that we may train others.

Alpha Psi Omega, the National Honorary Dramatic Fraternity, has given us the right to establish a local chapter, the Alpha Omicron. In December, nineteen-thirty, the Dramatic Fraternity presented a play, "The Copperhead," which was sponsored by the Senior Class.

The officers of the club are elected each semester.

"The Copperhead"

Augustus Thomas

PRESENTED BY THE ALPHA PSI OMEGA FRATERNITY, DECEMBER, 12, 1930, UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE SENIOR CLASS

FIRST EPOCH

"The Copperhead" was one of the most successful dramas ever presented at the college. The first epoch is built around the character of Milt Shanks, an Illinois farmer, in the period of the Civil War from 1861-1863.

Joey Shanks, a lad of sixteen, is determined to enlist in the Union Army. His mother tries to persuade him to remain at home and she coaxes Milt to go instead. This he refuses to do. Milt is suspected of being a Copperhead, a Northerner who sympathizes with and gives aid to the South. Gradually his friends turn against him. Joey enlists in the army and news of his bravery comes back home. Milt is arrested as a spy, convicted of murder, and sent to Joliet for life, but he is pardoned. His partner, Lem Tollard, remains in jail. Milt returns home after the surrender of Vicksburg to find that Joey is dead. He starts to the depot to get his body only to be stopped as Joey's last request was "Don't let my father see me, even in my coffin."

Grandma Perley	Luella Krug	Sue Perley	Mary Davies
Mrs. Shanks	Elizabeth VanBuskirk	Newt Gillespie	Robert Sutliff
Captain Hardy	John Hall	Andrews	George Brueckman
Milt Shanks	Maynard J. Pennington	Elsie	Ruth Emma Fortner

SECOND EPOCH

The second epoch takes place forty years later. Milt, now an old man, is living with his granddaughter, Madeline. She has just graduated from a normal school and is trying to get a position as teacher in her home town. Newt Gillespie comes to Milt and threatens to reveal his past if Madeline does not withdraw as a candidate for the position. Lem Tollard, who has just been pardoned from Joliet, enters to avenge himself. He is stopped in his attempt to kill Milt by the timely interference of Dr. Randall. Madeline then for the first time learns of her grandfather's past. She breaks her engagement to Philip Manning, because of his mother's family pride. Milt invites Gillespie, Captain Hardy, and the Mannings to his home and tells them the following story: "Years ago he was called to Washington by Abraham Lincoln, who asked him to serve his country by becoming a member of the Knights of the Golden Circle. He was bound to secrecy, unable to tell even his wife. His wife and son died believing him to be a traitor. He had been hated and despised for years as a Copperhead by his former friends." He told this story only when he saw it was parting Madeline and Philip. The curtain falls on a happy group. Madeline and Philip are reunited, and Milt happy to have friends again.

Play Tournament

A NEW feature in dramatics was introduced this year, the High School Play Tournament. This competitive play tournament, sponsored by the Alpha Psi Omega Dramatic Fraternity will now become an annual event. Invitations to participate in this event were sent to high schools in this section of the state. All expenses except traveling expenses were paid by the Fraternity, and the directors and casts were entertained at the college. The fraternity provided necessary stage settings but the casts provided all costumes and smaller properties. Four schools entered the tournament, providing a full evening's entertainment. They were as follows:

Hughestown High presented the one act play, "Sham," under the direction of Miss Helen Jenkes, a charter fraternity member. Sunbury High School presented the somewhat difficult play, "The Valiant," under the direction of Richard S. A. Abbot. "Oh, O, My Thumb," presented by Scott Township High School, was directed by a graduate of B. S. T. C., Matilda Mensch. Bloomsburg High School presented the play, "The Florist Shop," directed by Mrs. Harriet H. Kline, also a former student of the college.

Judges from out of town were selected and awarded a silver loving cup to Sunbury High School whose play, "The Valiant," was judged the best of the evening. This is the second time "The Valiant" won first place in our college auditorium, the first time being last year when it was given in our own college play tournament. Medals were awarded to the best actors in the plays which did not receive the cup. They were Rostand Kelly, Bloomsburg High School; Elmira Haney, Scott Township High School; Wilson Ramage, Hugheston High School.

"The New Lady Bantock"

Jerome K. Jerome

Presented by the Bloomsburg Players, March 14, 1930

In the opening scene we learn that Lord Bantock, who has recently married, is on his way home with his bride, a former member of the musical comedy, "Our Empire." When Fannie arrives she learns that instead of marrying Vernon James Wetherell, a poor artist, she has married Lord Bantock of an old, conservative English family. To complicate matters she discovers the butler is her uncle, Martin Bennett, the housekeeper, her Aunt Susannah, and she is related to everyone of the twenty-three servants at Bantock Hall. Bennett, with other members of the family he can trust, undertook the task of making Fannie into a lady fit to be their lord's wife. When the situation becomes unbearable Fannie dismisses the servants, at the same time revealing her own identity. Vernon is made to realize that love is greater than either pride or social position when the Misses Wetherell tell him his great-grandmother was a butcher's daughter. He asks Fannie to remain at Bantock Hall. Bennett gives his consent, speaking for the last time as a relative when the curtain falls.

The College Orchestra

THE College orchestra, sponsored by Prof. Howard L. Fenstermacher, offers valuable instruction to students with musical ability in ensemble playing. It is organized on the basis of a regular extra-curricular activity.

Throughout the year the orchestra has proved its worth many times, and has shown wonderful co-operation with Mr. Fenstermacher in his attempt to make it one of the finest organizations on the campus.

As concert master, Karl Getz has given his best support to the orchestra. It has been necessary to call on him on several occasions to direct the orchestra and he has never failed to carry out this important position. Karl is an old member of the orchestra and plays first violin.

The college orchestra as a whole, deserves much credit for their contribution in making the 1931 College program a success.

During the College year, the orchestra has made several appearances before the public. These have been on the following occasions:

Columbia County Teachers Institute
Home-Coming Day
Annual Rotary-Kiwanis College Night
May Day
Alumni Day
Commencement Exercises.

The Maroon and Gold Band

EARLY in the second semester a serious attempt was made by the administration to form a college band. It was felt that a musical organization of this type would offer instruction to a great number of the men of the school and serve a definite purpose by adding school spirit in the various athletic contests.

The band was formed under the leadership of Prof. Howard L. Fenstermaker and made its debut at the annual College Night affair when a joint session of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs is held at the college. The band was well received and its permanence was assured. It became a very necessary part of the college life in playing at the basketball games and probably helped in making a championship team for the year 1931. The annual Vod-vil of the Y. M. C. A. was also aided in their entertainment by the newly formed organization.

Next year a plan will be introduced which will provide free instruction to men of the college who are interested in music and instruments will be purchased through co-operation of the school and the student. This plan is excellent and it will enable a great many men to acquire useful training in music and ensemble playing.

The members of the band appreciate the attitude of the administration. And they will do their best to make this organization an outstanding one in all college activities. At present there are 30 members of the band, but next year will see this number swelled to at least 45 members.

Maroon and Gold Orchestra

For several years there have been more or less serious attempts to establish a dance orchestra at the college which would fit into the social life of the school. However, it was not until last year that the orchestra received recognition from the student body. Last year's Maroon and Gold orchestra played for the well known Thursday-night dances and also played for some of the larger dances. This year the orchestra was made an extra-curricular activity under the guidance of Professor Koch, dean of men, and it has enjoyed wide popularity for its fine organization and the quality of its music.

This year's band had its formation early in the fall of 1930. At present there are nine members. Samuel Kurtz, who has written some of the numbers used by the orchestra, was elected leader. William Letterman was made president of the organization and Robert Parker became manager. Kurtz is famous about the school for his ability to get a wide range of music out of a slide trombone. Letterman is a cornetist of no mean ability and, in the vernacular, Parker rattles the ivories with technique. Karl Getz, saxophone, has been the most versatile man in the orchestra. Doubling naturally on the clarinet he also plays solo parts with a violin. Lately he acquired an oboe and the reedy sound of this tube-like instrument adds to the effectiveness of the typical blues numbers now popular. Sheldon Kingsbury and Charles Cox fill in with saxophones and clarinets and Jack Vanderslice plays a cornet. Earl Van Dine and Jack Eble handle the rhythm section with the bass and drums respectively. "Hank" Warman, college baritone, aided the orchestra by singing at many of their engagements. Three of the men, Letterman, Parker and Warman composed a trio known as the "Campus Crooners" and were enjoyed in several appearances. They were also featured in a radio broadcast from a Scranton station.

A professional booking manager has been acquired for the orchestra and the boys are looking eagerly to a Mediterranean cruise. Two of the men, Kurtz and Van Dine, will be lost by graduation but the fine orchestra that has been built up will surely survive as a permanent and appreciated organization.

One of the most active musical organizations of the school is the Girls' Chorus, under the competent direction of Miss Jessie A. Patterson. The group consists of fifty girls, picked with the aim of attaining well-balance part harmony.

The club has appeared in chapel programs several times during the past year and in several college events. In addition to these appearances the girls gave the cantata "Pan" by Paul Bliss for their annual spring concert. The cantata proved to be one of the most successful events of the season. Tickets were sold on the basis of a dual attraction, the cantata being followed by a dance in the gymnasium. Miss Patterson, faculty advisor, directed the musical.

The group organization consists of a president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer in addition to an executive council. Several social functions have been successfully accomplished during the year.

The Men's Glee Club is composed of twenty-six men, each of whom is particularly gifted with vocal ability. Under the very able direction of Miss Harriet M. Moore, and with the assistance of the pianists, Miss Frances Evans and Robert Parker, the club appeared in several concerts at Bloomsburg and in nearby communities.

Each performance was well-balanced, including solos, double quartet numbers, selections by the trio, and ensemble numbers. The Fall Concert of '30 and the high class Minstrel Show of the Spring of '31 were two outstanding successes. The double quartet leaned toward humorous numbers and always drew much applause. "The Campus Crooners," as the trio is called, attributed their success to their modern arrangements of popular songs of the day. The presentations by the entire club were prominent because of their versatility. Southern melodies, negro spirituals, college "fight" songs, and heavy classical numbers were included in these whole-club renditions.

On many occasions the Maroon and Gold Orchestra traveled with the Club and enhanced the programs greatly by its presence.

The Obiter

Countless years have passed since the Gleeman's song rang through the smoke-dimmed rafters of Saxon halls. The voice that sang the praise of king and empire has long been silenced. But the spirit of his song still rings with all its ancient fervor in human hearts. Symbolically, the gleeman lives throughout these pages. . . . The word of our deeds are entwined with his lilting melody.

Obiter Dictum, "Spoken by the way." . . . We owe a debt of gratitude to the early editors who chose this fitting title for their annual publication. The first volume of the Obiter was published fifteen years ago. Improvement has followed from year to year with the addition of new features and new ideas. This year several changes were made in the book. The method of arranging the type-matter eliminates the great amount of white-space which occurs in previous editions. The senior write-ups have been omitted, adding a collegiate quality to the book and an index has been included for convenience. The Gleeman theme has been carried out in detail and each part fits closely into the other.

The willingness and co-operation of the staff has made possible the publication of this volume. The work was carried on under the direction of Edward De Voe, editor, and Elizabeth Hubler, business manager. Other members of the staff are David Baker, Beatrice Bowman, Helen Gibbons, Helen Cunningham, Arthur McKenzie, Sue Kepner, Esther Yeager, Alice MacMullen, Emily Park, Catherine Hayes, and Dorothy Frick. The staff especially wishes to thank Miriam Hartt and Marion Hinkel who served unofficially as members of the Obiter staff.

Oliver Krapf, '32 - - - - - - - Business Manager

The Maroon and Gold is the weekly news publication of Bloomsburg State Teachers College. It reflects the life of students, faculty, alumni, and friends in their activities. A student staff publishes the paper under the direction of a faculty advisory committee.

The editor-in-chief and business manager are elected by the Community Government Association, and the other staff members are in turn appointed by the editor-in-chief for their journalistic ability and interest in the work. The aim of the staff is to make the Maroon and Gold a paper of and for the people who are interested in the college.

The staff meets once a week to discuss problems and check up on work. The members work hard and cover all campus activities of any importance in a way that reflects the organization of the staff and the journalistic ability of its members.

This year an entire change has been brought about in the financing of the paper. It is no longer a student enterprise, but is placed on practically the same basis as the athletic teams and handled by the school in nearly the same way. Due to this change and consequential mix-up of affairs the Maroon and Gold was not able to get started until rather late in the school year. However, arrangements are now being made so that next year the first issue of the paper will be in the hands of the subscribers not later than the second week of school.

Much of the success of the 1930-31 Maroon and Gold can be attributed to the members of the faculty advisory committee who helped the staff in the work of news writing, and assisted them through many of their difficult situations.

The College Handbook

THIS year the College Handbook is in its fourth volume, but this is the first time the Handbook Committee has appeared in the OBITER. We are very glad to be here, thank you. The Handbook is a project in co-operation of faculty and students, thus truly representing our Community Government Association.

The faculty and administrative offices contribute the last word on College regulations from how to have your baggage delivered at the College when you arrive to what happens to you if you get more than eighteen hours of "A's" a semester. The student committee, seeing College life from the student angle, is able to furnish much helpful information and advice, especially to freshmen. In fact this little volume is such a help to freshmen that it is known facetiously about Campus as "the freshman bible."

You can always recognize the B. S. T. C. Handbook by its cover. It looks very much like its larger and more dignified parent, the College Catalog. which was your first introduction to Bloomsburg. But its smaller size and general compactness make it easy to carry in handbag or pocket.

The faculty and student body have developed in this small book a really surprising amount of information about our College, and the Handbook Committee is pleased to be the means of presenting it to our College Community.

Very truly yours,

The Committee:

GEORGE BRUECKMAN
LOIS DEMOTT
EDWARD DE VOE
LAURA KELLY
EMILY LANDIS
CARL RIGGS
RACHEL TURNER, Faculty Member

The School Catalog

Miss Rachel Turner, of the faculty publications committee, for the past several years has compiled and revised the great amount of material that is contained in the school catalogue, which is published annually by the administration. The catalogue serves as an invaluable aid in selecting courses and in becoming intimate with the college set-up. These books are furnished free to prospective students upon request. The administration wishes to thank the Obiter staff for their kindness in allowing them to use several group photographs of student activities. The use of these scenes has made the catalogue a more interesting and complete publication.

Tho' kings and rulers of the court, unnumbered gifts
Of love proclaim . . .
Unnumbered voices raise to heaven songs of love
To Widsith's name . . .

SOCIETIES

Y. W. C. A.

One of the most active organizations at Bloomsburg State Teachers College is the Young Women's Christian Association. As our college has grown, so the Y. W. C. A. has grown.

The Y. W. C. A. started the year with a big welcome party to the new members of the B. S. T. C. family. And oh! Let us not forget the formal dance which was given in November, one of the most outstanding social events of the semester.

The regular devotional meetings have been planned and conducted by the student members. Speakers from the faculty and from outside the college have helped greatly to make these meetings more uplifting in their character. Morning watches have been held at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter time. And then, too, the Y. W. C. A., co-operating with the Y. M. C. A., has held a number of the regular Sunday afternoon programs sponsored by the Student Government Association.

The numerous conferences have been no small part of the year's program. Four students attended the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. Conference at Forest Park; and an advisor and students were at the Kutztown Faculty-Student Conference.

While a greater part of the active work of the organization has been directed by student members, yet, much of the credit for its success must be given to the efficient and inspirational guidance of the advisors, Miss Edna Hazen and Miss Pearl Mason.

Y. M. C. A.

THE Y. M. C. A. of the local institution is a very successful organization. In the last few years the "Y" has greatly increased in numbers and usefulness. It is the purpose of the leaders to raise the ideals of the men on the campus and to provide real fellowship for the students and faculty members.

Meetings of the organization are held each Wednesday evening and are attended by a large number of the men. The "Y" has a membership of over fifty. Many joint meetings with the Y. W. C. A. were held during the past year. A social was given to the freshmen at the opening of the year and at the second semester. The Valentine Party which was a distinct success was only one of the many social events. The annual Vod-Vil show was held March 13, and provided the College with an evening of fun. With a large audience waiting to laugh the "Y" boys more than rose to the occasion.

The Y. M. C. A. is on the campus to serve the best interest of the student body. From the time the freshman enters college until he graduates as a senior the Y. M. C. A. aims to be his friend.

Lantern Club

The Lantern Club, which had been inactive for several years, again burst into flame at the beginning of the 1930-1931 term. During the year this club has proved itself to be one of the largest and most active organizations on the campus.

The club, with three projectors at its disposal, undertakes to quicken the interest in literature through the presentation of "movies" based on stories of literary value.

The pictures shown have been patronized not only by club members but by many faculty members and students.

Pictures shown by the club during the first semester of this year were:

Dickens' "Oliver Twist."
Dickens' "David Copperfield."
Charles Norris' "Brass."
Eggleston's "The Hoosier Schoolmaster."
"The Wanderer"—The Bible story of the Prodigal Son.
Two educational films, "Alaska" and "Scotland."
Scenes having to do with the life of Louise M. Alcott and her story, "Little Women."

The picture, "The King of Kings," was presented by the Lantern Club in an open meeting just after the Christmas holidays.

An added feature of this club is provision for training in motion picture operation. Any person who satisfactorily completes this course is granted a license to operate a non-commercial moving picture machine.

OFFICERS

Clair Troy	President
Rosa Hill	Vice President
Woodrow Hummel	Secretary
Gerald Woolcock	Treasurer

The Geographic Society meets regularly every Thursday afternoon at 3:20. Each member is asked to report on some topic which is of interest to the group. This year we enjoyed talks on the proposed Europe through Africa to South America route for trains and airplanes; on Death Valley; on the Grand Canyon of the Colorado; on the Panama Canal; and on the country of Alaska. A novel feature was added this year in the form of a geographic game and spelling bee. Films, personal experiences, or second hand material were used to advantage in giving the talks. Occasional hikes are also a feature.

Nature Study Club

Motto: Through Nature to God

OFFICERS

Charlotti Osborne	President
John Long	Vice President
Morris DeHaven, Jr.	Secretary-Treasurer
Grace Callender	Scribe

The club was organized as an extra-curricular extension of the work required in the regular course. It provides an excellent opportunity to those who wish to study. The set-up makes special use of the outdoor opportunities in our environment. Place for these objectives was worked out under the supervision of D. S. Hartline.

Doing something with Nature forms a factor in education of which nothing can take the place. The Nature Study Club is cultivating a great love of all outdoors. Humanity renews itself from Nature, but wears out if denied that privilege. The whole social organization rests upon the knowledge of Nature.

The paramount value of the Nature Study Club is character with a will to do good and power to create happiness. It is working not only to obtain present knowledge but to develop the power and love of observation by which knowledge may be gained in after life.

Talks and indoor activities are supplemented with outdoor observation trips and "Eats Hikes" to supply one great demand of Nature.

Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers.

The work of the Rural Life Club is to give us a keener insight into the problems and tasks of the rural school and community, to educate ourselves so that we are able to give our best to this work. The members of the club are vitally interested in the welfare of the country boy and the country girl.

Realizing the importance of our mission, we have endeavored through our weekly programs to foster a better knowledge of the problems that are ours to solve. We have accomplished this by debates, discussions, and entertainments which concern all phases of rural work. Much that we have accomplished we owe to our efficient supervisor, Professor D. H. Robbins.

North Hall Student Government Association

OFFICERS

Wilbur Hibbard	President
Thomas Coursen	Vice President
Frank J. Perch	Secretary
Nicholas Jaffin	Treasurer

Founded on true educational principles and nurtured by an efficient administration, the North Hall Student Government Association has developed into a permanent, progressive organization. We, as an organization, are grateful to the administration for the privileges extended to us, and pledge ourselves to do anything within our power that we may prove deserving of this recognition.

At the bi-monthly meetings the members have the opportunity to discuss any matter which will benefit themselves or the organization as a whole. This principle of free speech has contributed toward the development of the mental, moral, and physical wants of each and every member of the association.

Socially, the organization is, indeed, very prominent. The annual fall festivities in the form of Freshmen Initiations, which are sponsored by the members of the Council, create enthusiasm in the hearts of all upperclassmen. Shifting to the more informal social events, we naturally recall the "smokers" where politics in the form of Humor scored high.

On behalf of the members who leave we say "Adieu and may success follow you in your profession."

OFFICERS

J. George Brueckman, Jr.	President

Mary E. Taylor	Secretary
Georgia E. Matha	Treasurer
H. A. Andruss	Sponsor

The Junior Chamber of Commerce was organized by the students in the Department of Commerce of State Teachers College, Bloomsburg, Penna., during the fall semester of 1930.

The main objective of this organization is a commercial contest which it will supervise in the spring, and to which all the high schools of Eastern Pennsylvania will be invited to send contestants. Cups, medals, and other trophies will be awarded to the winners.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce also endeavors to keep its members abreast of modern business and educational practice and procedure, to furnish qualities of leadership, and to bring its members into contact with other schools and associations.

From time to time the organization had business men and educational men speak at its meetings upon different types and phases of business and the place of commercial work in the modern high school curriculum.

Some of the highlights in the various activities of this club during the year were:

A demonstration of the different typewriters from the early models up to the electrically operated machine that will, under mechanical guidance, write over 300 words per minute; a demonstration of the Ediphone and Dictaphone, showing the adaptation of mechanical appliances to modern office practice; addresses by Mr. Eckley Hoyt, of Berwick, on "Insurance"; Mr. H. Mont. Smith, of Bloomsburg, on "Teaching Law," and Mr. Duy, of Bloomsburg, on "Sources of Financial Information."

During the third week in May the Commercial Contest was given, to which were invited contestants from 125 high schools. Contests were held in Bookkeeping, Typewriting, Gregg Shorthand, Business Writing. Business Mathematics and Business Law. Awards were given to the successful contestants.

This contest has greatly stimulated interest in the Commercial Teachers Training Course being given at B. S. T. C. by bringing here the commercial students from nearby points and showing them just what this course offers. It also acts as a means of keeping the commercial teachers of this vicinity interested in the work being accomplished in this comparatively new field.

FRATERNITIES

Kappa Delta Pi

Gamma Beta Chapter

FEBRUARY twenty-first of this year "marked another milestone in the history of this college"—the establishment of Kappa Delta Pi, a national honorary educational fraternity.

The purpose of the Kappa Delta Pi is to encourage high professional and scholastic standards among teachers during their preparation for teaching. It upholds the highest ideals, encourages fellowship and scholarship, and inspires teachers to excel in educational work. It requires for membership of both men and women a general scholarship ranking in the upper quartile and the completion of at least six semester hours of work in education for Juniors and twelve for Seniors. These, of course, are the national requirements. It must be understood that only colleges having a fair, reasonable, and impartial grading system are permitted to establish this fraternity. Also, it is a custom of a chapter to select only those for membership whose scholarship is high in the upper quartile, and which has been obtained in an honest way.

Kappa Delta Pi originally grew out of a local society in Illinois, and was founded at the University of that state in 1909. In 1911 it was recognized as an honorary educational fraternity.

The charter members of the Gamma Beta Chapter, graduates and undergraduates, can never erase from their memories the impressive ceremonies of their initiation and the installation of their officers; nor can they forget the message brought to them the day of their initiation by Dr. Hall-Quest, a member of the Laureate Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi which is composed of outstanding educators of the world. They cannot forget that "scholarship is the basic equipment for successful teaching."

Alpha Psi Omega

Established at State Teachers College, Bloomsburg, March 3, 1928

THE Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary fraternity, was organized for the purpose of providing an honor society for colleges who are doing extensive work in dramatics. It provides among colleges of the United States and Canada a bond of fellowship and contact for those who are interested in better dramatics and the college theatre.

The fraternity is comprised of those members of The Bloomsburg Players who have done superior work in dramatics and who have qualified for membership. The significance of the fraternity is being felt more keenly this year because of the various projects carried out. "The Copperhead," presented by the fraternity and sponsored by the Senior Class, was one of the most successful plays ever presented by the college. The alumni association of the fraternity, formed this year, was almost one hundred per cent present at the first annual banquet, held at the Elks' Home on the College Homecoming Day.

This year the fraternity has begun to publish the fraternity news letter which will keep all alumni members in closer contact with the fraternity and the college.

The members of the Bloomsburg Chapter have worked faithfully to maintain the high standards and ideals of the national organization.

The fraternity was represented at the National Luncheon in Chicago at Christmas by our director, Miss Alice Johnston.

This year four members have been initiated and others have qualified and will be initiated before the end of the college year.

The Alumni Trophy Room

On Homecoming Day, November 8, 1930, our new Alumni Trophy Room was opened to the public and dedicated to the use of the Alumni and the faculty. Though not fully complete in its furnishings, it is ready for use and becomes an integral part of the college equipment.

The origin of the "Trophy Room" is as follows: At the commencement of 1929, several of our most enthusiastic members, led by H. Mont Smith, D. D. Wright, and others, and encouraged by the President of the Alumni Association, Mr. Bruce Albert, so ably presented the project to the classes holding reunions that year, that the idea was accepted with enthusiasm, and a considerable sum of money was contributed to the cause which was planned to be finished within five years. By the end of the five-year period every class will have an opportunity to support and further the movement. O. H. Bakeless, who was then retiring from the faculty, an alumnus of the school, was named chairman of the committee to work on the plan. The classes who returned in 1930 also endorsed the scheme, and gave it their financial support. It was then that active operations began on the projected room.

At the suggestion of President Haas, the Trustees of the College set aside what was known to the students as Classroom K for the purpose. They cheerfully, at no expense to the Alumni Association, made the necessary alterations to fit the room for its new furnishings. It was turned over to the Alumni Committee on November 1, 1930, for the work of furnishing.

The committee in charge, under the direction of Miss Ida Gray of the college art department, a young woman of excellent training, exquisite taste, and rare judgment, proceeded with the plans of equipment and furnishing, so far as in their judgment it was wise to complete the project at this time. During the next three years it is hoped the work so well begun will be completed.

Room K very worthily takes on its new function as the "Alumni Trophy Room." It is replete with memories to all students from the days of 1894. For years it was a part of the first real school library, in the days when Miss Emily Smith presided as the first Librarian. Later it housed the geographical department of the school, when Prof. Charles

H. Albert so ably held sway in that field. After this completion of Science Hall it was made a general classroom, and many teachers took turn in keeping the turgid masses of somnolent students from re-enacting the feat of Rip Van Winkle. But why recall those rosy dreams? It was the classroom, shared with others in which O. H. Bakeless closed his thirty years of service to the College, May 24, 1929. It is a goodly room with atmosphere and memories to students across a span of forty years. The Trustees acted generously, and chose wisely, when they relegated this room to quiet, and peacefulness—and to the services of the alumni and faculty.

We trust that all will be pleased with the efforts of the committee to give them a place in this great bustling institution, so isolated from college activities that they can there find rest, quiet, and time to think and dream, undisturbed, while the rush of school goes on without. May it ever remain a secluded and beautiful spot, where the returning alumni will feel at home among the memories of other days—"A thing of beauty and a joy forever," a mark of that affection the children of the Alma Mater ever cherish for their great institution, Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

Retrospection

DURING the College year, 1930-31, the Maroon and Gold colors have swept to victory time and again. In varsity sports the Boothmen rode roughshod over all competitors and gained outstanding distinction and renown. . . . The triumph in basketball was praiseworthy. With a single defeat at the hands of East Stroudsburg Mentor Booth's cage men turned in the most successful performance of many years and became the mythical "state champions" of the state teachers colleges. Football and basketball witnessed fighting Maroon and Gold teams, and victories in cross-country, baseball, tennis and track made 1931 a noteworthy year for the Maroon contingents. . . . An attempt to introduce intra-mural sports has been seriously undertaken by interested students and faculty members. Competition in Co-ed athletics has been strong and excellent opportunity is given each year for participation under the guidance of Coaches Sutliff and McCammon. Interest has been added to women's athletics by an efficient organization known as the Women's "B" Club. Membership in this organization is based upon athletic credits awarded on a point system. . . . The Men's "B" Club this year sponsored the annual basketball tournament and has co-operated with the school in promoting high athletic standards. As we close our college career we feel that the efforts of our classmates have been worthwhile. May others carry on.

Coaches

Mentor Thornly W. Booth came to Bloomsburg in the fall of 1926 to assume the position of head coach of the Maroon and Gold contingents. During this period many fine teams have been turned out, and victory after victory has been witnessed by his cohorts. . . . In defeating the strong teams which have opposed the Maroon and Gold, Coach Booth has established a reputation for the quality and calibre of his teams. He was assisted this year by Chester Zimolzak, former Maroon football luminary, who re-entered Bloomsburg in the fall of 1930 and served in the capacity of student coach. Zimolzak aided the Bloomsburg mentor in football by handling the line and built an effective barrier which stood the onslaught of many hard-fought gridiron frays. He also built a strong junior varsity team and his products will prove a valuable asset to Mentor Booth's 1932 edition of cagemen. . . . "Chick" Paul, as student football manager, had a busy season cut out for him but handled it to the general satisfaction of the team and student body. . . . A word concerning our captains would not be amiss . . . Nick Jaffin as captain of the football squad turned in an enviable record; Gordon Wambaugh, basketball captain, will long be remembered for his outstanding performance; in cross-country, Allen Parr, of Berwick Marathon fame, led his teammates to victory; Tam Kirker, four-letter man, headed a strong nine through a successful season; tennis was led by Bob Sutliff, of Lafayette fame, and track ended the season under the captaincy of Dinny Thomas.

Football

Two setbacks at the hands of formidable elevens were the lone marks on an otherwise enviable record for Coach Booth's 1930 football edition, the Maroon and Gold stalwarts turning in four creditable victories to offset this pair of losses. One game ended in a stalemate.

The defeats were sustained at the hands of California and Lock Haven, both by the same score, 20-0. Three hard games in a row at the beginning of the season took its toll in injuries, and the team bowed to both rivals while weakened by the loss of varsity players.

Regaining its former power at the close of the campaign, the Boothmen turned in victories over Shippensburg and Stroudsburg by 13-0 and 13-6 scores respectively.

The early-season wins were recorded at the expense of Kutztown, 19-14 and Millersville, 19-0. Mansfield played the Maroon and Gold gridders to a 6-6 standstill. The first game was played on foreign soil and the next two on home loam.

The most notable win of the season was scored over Shippensburg before a Homecoming Day crowd that marveled at the power of the Booth-coached eleven. Assisting Booth in the capacity of line coach, Chester Zimolzak proved an invaluable aide. Zimolzak, a former Bloomsburg athlete, returned to college this year to obtain his B.S. degree.

The Zimolzak-groomed line, when intact, was formidable from end to end. Kirker and McKenzie filled wing posts, Jack Hall the center booth, Beyers and Kanjorski the tackle positions, and Sutliff and Yocabonis the guard places.

Led by Captain Jaffin, the backfield quartet was composed of Jaffin, Captain-elect Warman, Thomas and Rudowski.

Of this array, Captain Jaffin, Warman, Hall, Pennington, Thomas, Kanjorski, Rudowski, Kirker, Yocabonis, Beyers, McKenzie, and Yaretski were veterans from the previous season.

On Saturday, September 27, the varsity squad boarded the new North Branch Transit Company bus for Kutztown where they were to test the quality of the Zimolzak-Booth combination against the Keystone aggregation on their home territory. The result was a hard fought contest, leaving Kutztown on the short end of a 19-14 score. The whole squad showed up well; their actions giving promise of some very interesting football before the close of the season on the part of the Mount Olympus grid stars.

The following two weeks were spent in preparing for the coming fray with the strong Millersville eleven. Since the week-end of October 4 was vacant on the B. S. T. C. schedule, this time could be put to good advantage in smoothing out the rough spots discovered in the Kutztown battle. The Saturday of October 11 dawned clear and cold. The Millersville team made an early appearance, and spent the hours before the game acclimating themselves to their surroundings. Confident of victory they trotted onto the field at 2:30 only to drag themselves off again several hours later humbled by holding the zero end of a 19-0 score. The victory was a credit to both teams as the game was hardily contested from start to finish. Injuries, however, took a toll from both teams, the Maroon and Gold receiving somewhat the harder loss.

The weakened Mount Olympus warriors worked hard the following week to prepare for the fast Mansfield aggregation who came down from the mountains the next Saturday to get revenge for an unexpected setback which they had experienced the year before on their home field. They succeeded only in part, however, for the plucky Bloomsburg men sent them home with a 6-6 tie, and felt fortunate that it ended in a stalemate.

Still further weakened by injuries, the Maroon and Gold traveled far afield to do battle with their western cousins, the California Teachers College eleven. The trip was made in the same bus used on the Kutztown trip, and proved tiresome in the extreme. A tired and restless squad unloaded at Hotel Penn Albert at Greensburg, Penna. After a good meal the men tried to sleep to the lulling sound of rushing trains beneath their windows. The following afternoon told a story sad but true. California was left behind in the gathering dusk rejoicing over a 20-0 victory from their eastern neighbors. It was a tired and bedraggled group of players that arrived in Bloomsburg the next night, too tired to care about the fact that although a loss was checked against them, a moral victory would always be theirs due to the fact that but a fraction of the varsity squad had been able to do battle against the western team.

The crippled team was unable to marshal its forces sufficiently to stop the winning streak of the strong Lock Haven warriors whom they met the following week-end. With the exception of a few, the game was played by second string men. It ended by a score of 20-0 in favor of the Lock Haven men. Considering that the coaches were saving their varsity men for the coming game with Shippensburg, the demonstration of the Maroon "shock-troops" is worthy of mention.

Homecoming Day, the day of days, dawned the next Saturday with a clear sky and a questioning atmosphere. The story was soon told; written in the blood and sweat of eleven fighting men who were out to do or die for their Alma Mater. As in the contest of the year before on Homecoming Day, teamwork marked the performance of the squad. To the others and acclaim of an immense crowd, five men trotted onto the gridiron for their last game under the Maroon and Gold colors. These men, Kirker, McKenzie, Pennington, Yocabonis, and Captain Jaffin, aided by their fighting teammates, sent Shippensburg home with a decisively 13-0 defeat.

The historic contest with Wyoming Seminary was missing this year and the season closed in a most creditable fashion with a victory over Stroudsburg by a score of 13-6. This game proved in a positive manner that the 1930 football squad of the Bloomsburg State Teachers College had held up the traditions handed down by the teams that have passed before. Indeed they have set a creditable mark for the boys who will wear the Maroon and Gold colors in the years to come.

There is no one who can say that the team did not owe much of their success to Captain Jaffin whose untiring efforts and splendid example of sportsmanship will be a goal for the neophite captain "Hank" Warman to reach. In closing we extend the wish that the coming year may be a successful one for our Alma Mater and for the boys who will wear its colors on the field of battle.

Basketball

A SINGLE setback in 18 starts earned Bloomsburg's basketball array recognition as the mythical champion of the teacher college teams throughout the State, a record unparalleled in Maroon and Gold cage history.

The lone defeat was inflicted by East Stroudsburg on alien boards in the fifth game of the season, the home contingent avenging this loss by a 64-41 triumph in the return meeting here. East Stroudsburg's win was recorded by a 42-29 count.

In setting aside the outstanding teachers college teams of the State, Captain Wambaugh and his mates piled up 810 points to 515 for the opposition. The game average for the Boothmen was 45 points, 16 points in advance of their rivals.

The teams disposed of in the race to titular recognition were Indiana twice, Lock Haven twice, Kutztown twice, Shippensburg twice, Wyoming Seminary twice, Millersville, East Stroudsburg, Slippery Rock, Mansfield, and California. A strong Alumni five bowed in the first game of the season.

Captain Wambaugh set the pace for his teammates during the season by leading the team in scoring with a grand total of 228 points. Joe Yock ranked second with 224, followed by Tam Kirker with 154. Kirker amassed his total in the later games, having been missing from the line-up the forepart of the season.

Bobby Wilson, filling Kirker's place during his absence, amassed 57 points. Rudowski, alternating between guard and forward, compiled 41 points. Alex Shepella was credited with 33 points, Frank Golder with 32, Hank Warman with 17, Walt Yaretski 15, and Dave Baker 10.

The first five was comprised of Captain Wambaugh, center; Yock and Shepella, forwards, and Golder and Kirker, guards. A fast-passing attack was the chief threat of the team, with every man on the club a dangerous shot from any angle of the floor.

Of the 18 games on the schedule, seven were played on foreign courts. The first five teachers college foes were confronted on alien floors, East Stroudsburg turning in its victory in the fifth and last set-to before the team returned to the home boards.

Coach Thornly Booth loses heavily by graduation, but is confident, nevertheless, that next year's team will be a representative one. The players who claim sheepskins this year are Kirker, Golder, Yock, Baker, and Wilson.

Of the squad members, Captain Wambaugh is a product of F. and M. Academy, Kirker and Baker of Columbia High, Yock of Mahanoy City High, Shepella and Rudowski of Newport High, Golder and Wilson of Bloomsburg High, Yaretski of Glen Lyon High, and Warman of Scranton Central.

Bloomsburg's

GORDON WAMBAUGH

Columbia

Captain Wambaugh, lanky center, has played three successful years for Bloomsburg. He has one remaining year to establish a perfect cage record.

JOSEPH YOCK

Mahanoy City

A dead shot from any angle, "Yock" will no longer be a menace to opposing teams. He will receive his sheepskin in May and his berth left vacant until a worthy successor can be found.

DAVID BAKER

Columbia

Better known as "Dave" this curly-headed center also played his last game for B. S. T. C. His work in the key position will be missed by next year's squad.

ALEX SHEPELA

Newport

"Axel," the Sophomore's bid to fame, has two exciting years ahead of him on the Maroon squad. He plays a fast game as running guard and is an asset to any cage five.

WALTER YARETSKI

Newport

"Walt" is little, but his ability for sliding through seemingly impossible holes assures him an illustrious career in a forward position. Then too, "Walt" is only a Sophomore with two years of play ahead of him.

Champions

THOMAS KIRKER

Columbia

"Tam" also doffs the Maroon and Gold after a successful cage career in the forward position. An unerring shot from any position he has been a menace to countless quintets.

HENRY WARMAN

Scranton

"Hank," a Junior this year, played a steady and consistent game at guard. His senior year will give him ample opportunity to use this ability. He will undoubtedly fill Golder's position as defensive guard.

NICHOLAS RUDOWSKI

Newport

"Nick" has two more years to develop his latent powers which he displayed several times this year. As Kirker's understudy, he played best in the forward position when the going was mostly uphill.

FRANK J. GOLDER

Bloomsburg

Four years of outstanding basketball is "Frankie's" record. His performance as "all-state" back guard makes his loss by graduation sadly felt.

ROBERT WILSON

Bloomsburg

"Bob," a diminutive forward, found little difficulty in slipping through the opposing defense. Wilson likewise played his last game under the Maroon colors this season.

Baseball

THE 1930 baseball season was not as great a success as it could have been—three games won and five lost. The club won two games from Mansfield and one from Luzerne Teachers; it lost two hard ones to Stroudsburg, one to Wyoming Seminary, and one to Shippensburg, with rain cancelling two others.

With a number of veterans returning and several new men, the 1931 club should have a crack line-up. The 1930 team was composed of the following: Pitchers, Creveling, Fritz, and Litwhiler; infielders, Yock, Morgan, Krafchick, Kirker, Coursen, Kraynack, Slusser, Wadas, Yaretski, Lewis, and Fetter; outfield, Golder, Davis, Hidlay, and Rudowski.

Junior Varsity

TWELVE wins in twelve starts against a worthy string of opponents is the 1931 Junior Varsity's bid to fame. The Zimolzak-coached five turned in a total of 435 points to 270 points scored by their twelve opponents. Fred Jaffin, forward, was high scorer for the Jayvees, with a total of 103 points. Eight games were played on home boards and four were played in alien courts.

It will be the duty of the Jayvees to keep up the prestige of this year's championship varsity team. The old saying: "No team is better than its reserve material" offers proof that the 1932 edition of the Maroon varsity will follow closely in the footsteps of the 1931 team with a wealth of good material.

The summary of the games follow:

Cross-Country Team

After discouraging attempts at Cross-Country in the two preceding years B. S. T. C. finally rallied to her call enough competitors and enough support at home to put Cross-Country across with a bang in 1930-31.

The team was successful because it was composed of a group of young men who went into Cross-Country for Cross-Country's sake.

Cross-Country is one of those sports in which you do not have a crowd of spectators yelling madly to cheer you on when it seems you have given all you have. It is one in which a man must be in top-notch physical condition if he is to be successful. It does not bring the glory to a winning man or team that a last-minute touchdown or a home-run does to the player.

The meets were Homecoming Day events for the Teachers Colleges.

On October 25 the team journeyed to California and brought home its share of the spoils when it won by the score of 32-23.

On November 8, our Homecoming Day, the team defeated Shippensburg's confident team by the score of 39-16.

Our return duel with them was on their Homecoming Day, November 15, and the score of 38-17 was the only thing to detract from the success of Shippensburg's Day.

Mr. Booth turned the coaching over to Allen Parr, who also captained and led the team in every meet. Parr's name is indelibly associated with Cross-Country in this section.

1930 Tennis Team

JOHN C. KOCH - - - Coach ROBERT G. SUTLIFF - - - Captain

UNDEFEATED in eight matches the 1930 tennis team established a precedent to be followed by future teams. Robert Sutliff, of Lafayette fame, played under the Maroon and Gold colors last year and was a decisive factor in bringing victory to Bloomsburg. Of the eight matches played, seven were won by unquestioned margins, but East Stroudsburg succeeded in tying the score in a return match on their own soil. Mansfield, always a menace to Bloomsburg players, was defeated in two matches, 4-2 and 5-1. In the first setto, E. Stroudsburg lost at Bloomsburg, 4-2, but the return game at that place resulted in a 3-3 stalemate. Wyoming Seminary suffered ignominous defeat both here and at Kingston, the tally for both games standing 6-1, 6-1. Bucknell Jayvees, new contestants, lost two comparatively close battles, both resulting in a 4-2 defeat.

The need for new tennis material is evident. Only three of last year's team remain, Sutliff, Wambaugh and Brown. It will be necessary for these three men and new candidates to carry on 1930's fine record.

Track 1930

TRACK for the past few years has been more or less neglected and there has never been a concerted effort to organize this sport. Each year the team participates in the State Teachers College meet held usually at Shippensburg or West Chester. Last year at West Chester the team was awarded fifth place out of the eight teams participating. An inter-class meet was sponsored last season, the Sophomores taking the meet with 53 points while the Freshmen stole second place with a total of 34 points. The 1931 track squad is captained by "Dinny" Thomas and at the time of going to press the team is preparing to enter the annual meet which will be held at West Chester.

While kings debate, divide, the wondrous
Peace fires burn . . .

OFFICERS

Ethel Keller	President
Lorna Gillow	Vice President
Anne Urban	Secretary
Elizabeth Hubler	Treasurer

This organization is composed of girls who have earned their "B" in athletics. A girl must have six hundred points, an "A" in sportsmanship, and also an "A" in posture in order to be awarded a "B." Chevrons are awarded to the girls for each additional points they earn.

This year the Girls' "B" Club is further fulfilling its aim of promoting girls' athletics and school spirit in the college by taking full charge of all girls' athletics—attending to the organization of the various teams, the officiating and the scoring of the games.

The sponsors of the "B" Club, Miss Lucy McCammon and Mrs. Kathryn Sutliff, have thus been relieved of all their former responsibility along this line and now are acting strictly in the capacity of advisors of the club.

We wish the future members of the Girls' "B" Club success. The present members are:

Senior Basketball

THE Senior girls' basketball tournament in 1930-31 was very successful in spite of the fact that it started late and was frequently interrupted. The games were marked by clean sportsmanship, capable officiating and clever playing. Because of lack of time, Saturday games were attempted but did not materialize. Miss McCammon was not present for a few games but they were played as scheduled. Much substituting was necessary this year because of the "Flu" epidemic in the school and very few girls will receive 100 points for the season.

We had twelve regular teams and plenty of substitutes. Sonner's team, No. 12, was champion with team 7 and 2 tie for second place. The above teams are pictured in order 12, 7, and 2, and represent the three outstanding teams of the tournament.

With the closing of a successful basketball season, we will now turn to outdoor sports.

Freshmen Girls' Basketball Tournament

THE Girls' "B" Club decided to manage girls' basketball activities of B. S. T. C. with the needed aid of their faculty advisors, Mrs. Kathryn Loose Sutliff and Miss Lucy McCammon. The first scheduled games was played on January 5. All girls were given the privilege to enter in this indoor sport.

Freshmen girls who had little or no experience in the game were classified in "B" teams and named by colors; girls who had played the game in former years, in "A" teams. There were eight "A" teams and ten "B" teams scheduled to play every Monday and Thursday of each week. With approximately one and a half hours each week throughout the basketball season of ten weeks, the sixty "B" girls received worthwhile training which is hoped to prove appreciatory in future years. Likewise the forty-eight "A" girls have gained valuable experience. Another educational feature included in our athletic program is the training of promising referees.

The "Green-Yellow" team, Marion Hinkel holding the captaincy, won the tournament by defeating a close runner-up," "Orange-Blue," Volrath, captain, by a score of 23-6.

The "Red" team, Derr, holding captaincy, held first place in the "B" teams after defeating the "Silver" team, Arasin, captain, by a 12-4 score.

Clean fighting spirit combined with excellent teamwork titled these two teams as "champions" of our Freshmen Girls' Basketball tournament.

L'ENVOI

As we sit in the Obiter Office, it seems hard to realize that our work is completed. Our task is finished. We have done all that our time and ability permitted to produce an annual which is worthy of Bloomsburg. Whether we have succeeded or not you must judge for yourself.

The keynote of the work this year was co-operation. We extend our heartiest thanks to the faculty, the students, the various classes and organizations who aided us in every way possible. We would like especially to mention Professor Wilson who helped us with the write-ups; Dean Sutliff for the use of his class records; Miss Mason for the use of the Library files; Mr. Hausknecht and Mrs. Knight of the Business Office for their kindness in allowing us to use the office equipment; Miss Eyerly for her courtesy in making the mail available for the Obiter staff, and Dr. Haas for the use of the Obiter Office. We are grateful to Herb. W. Lyon, of the Canton Engraving Company, for his valued assistance in laying out the book; Mr. E. C. Schroeter, of the Molloy Cover Company, for his fine work on the cover; Mr. Harry J. W. Kiessling, Superintendent of the Annual Department of the Grit Publishing Company, for his cheerful co-operation in the printing and binding of the book; to Ralph G. Phillips for his fine work on the photographs, and to the unheralded engravers and printers who gave their finest workmanship to build this fine annual.

The 1931 Obiter has left our hands and is now in yours. We have tried faithfully to reproduce a picture of the school as we have found it. As we close the office door for the last time, we are secure in the knowledge that the best that a person can do is all that is ever demanded of him.

Edward T. De Voe,
Elizabeth H. Hubler.

Choosing a College

To the young man or young woman graduating from high school, choosing a college usually means choosing a vocation.

The Teachers Colleges of Pennsylvania offer not only an opportunity for cultural training, but prepares the student for an attractive profession which offers service to youth as its opportunity. With the six elective fields of the four year course in Secondary education in view, any student may follow the lines of his preferred work, specializing for at least three years in his chosen fields. A recent modification of the curriculum has in view the extension of this choice by placing the beginning of one elective field in the freshman year. Additional subject matter courses are being emphasized. The State Teachers College at Bloomsburg offers not only work in the Secondary field but also offers a curriculum in the Commercial field. This carries with it the Bachelor of Science Degree and certification to teach commercial branches in the public schools in Pennsylvania.

Those who desire to specialize in the Elementary field may pursue a four year course, receiving the Bachelor of Science Degree in Education, and be thoroughly prepared to take charge of elementary school work, and by the most recent plan of rearrangement of the curriculum, have a wide selection of elective subjects. Certification courses are also offered to those who can spend but two years in the institution. Students selecting this work may specialize in the Kindergarten-Primary, Intermediate, or Rural fields.

The State Teachers College at Bloomsburg seeks only those students who will profit most by all that it has to offer. The high grade student will not only be given the opportunity of securing a liberal education, but at the same time will be prepared to enter a profession which is constantly being more and more appreciated by the public-at-large.
